WALHALLA, S. C.

WEDNESDAY, AUG. 2, 1922.

THE CONFEDERATE VETERANS.

The Confederate veterans of Oconee—the survivors of the famous Orr's Regiment—will be entertained in Walhalla, in their annual reunion on Aug. 15th, by the World War veterans of the Walhalla American Legion. A fitting tribute from youthful warriors to aged and worn veterans who fought in the war that really made our great country what it is to-day, and without which, many think, we would be many paces to the backward of where we stand to-day.

It is a beautiful thought—this entertainment of the "boys" of the sixties by the boys of 1914-1921—reckoning them from the very beginning of the great conflict into which they entered later, and up to to-day. The mingling of these youthful service men with the older men, the soldier boys of long years past, will contribute a beautiful mental picture for us to store away into our memories.

The 1922 reunion of Orr's Regiment will be unique in this respect. And how many of the older soldiers attending this reunion will attend another? It is a sad thought—how few of these men of the "days that tried men's souls" there are with us to-day, and how many less there will be with us by August, 1923. Yet not all is sad in looking at these gray and grizzled soldiers of the war of half a century ago. Not one but has the gratitude of younger men who take the time to think—and the World War has put some pretty deep and wide thoughts into the heads of most of these youngsters who went "over there" to do and to dare—mayhap to die—for the cause of world liberty and world freedom. That is why the soldiers of to-day are going to feast and entertain the soldiers of yesterday—because they have thought and are thinking thoughts that would never have come to them, maybe, had they not passed through the hell of bullet, steel and gas, and witnessed some of the nauseatingly hideous engines and methods of modern warfare.

It is well that there is to be a mingling of the old and young soldiers of our section in our midst. We will all learn something from this meeting if we will but try.

Let every citizen join heartily with the youthful veterans in making the 15th of August a great and memorable day for the veterans of the sixties. We have still with us a few of the old soldiers. Let us not wait till all are gone—and then regret that we did not do what we might have done to add bright days of pleasure during the days when their ranks were thinning so rapidly.

And we learn that the old soldiers are to have two days of entertainment, for the ladies of Seneca, we are informed, will invite the members of Orr's Regiment, their comrades of other commands who may attend, and all others of the "boys of the sixties," to go to Seneca and spend the following day there. So 1922 is to be a year that will stand out bright and glowing in the minds and memories of our aged friends.

It is well that it shall be so!

To Receive Farm Loan Applications.

The Walhalla Farm Loan Association has been notified to receive applications for farm loans, and has been assigned a very liberal allotment. This will probably be the last appraisal that will be made in time to close loans by the first of January, and all who contemplate getting these loans should apply now if they expect to make their changes by Jan. 1, 1923. It is likely that there will be more a. s. than can be served, and it is important that you act promptly if you desire this cheap money. The rate of interest is 5 1/2 per cent, payable semi-annually.

The One Topic of Thought and Conversation.

If you were going to make a guess as to the One Thing on the minds of 100 per cent of the Thinking People in Oconee County to-day, we would say, "The Boll Weevil and Its Effects on our Commercial Life."

Then, granting this to be the case, what are you doing or going to do about Him?

Do you intend to sit idly and lament the fact while he is destroying your crop and living? We do not believe this is your intention.

Then get busy before it is too late. We have made some study of the situations, and will gladly give such as we have, and can tell you where to get more. We have a stock of that we offer at only a fraction above cost to help in the situation.

Calcium-Arsenate and Dusting Machines
